The Daily paper will be sent to Clubs at $3 for four months.

THE PLATFORM.

The Democratic party, in National Convention assembled, reposing its trust in the intelligence, patriotism and discrimination and justice of the people; starting from the Constitution as the foundation and limitation of the powers of the Government, and the guarantee of the liberties of the citizen; and recognizing the questions of slavery and secession as having been settled for all time to come by the war or the voluntary action of the Southern States in Constitutional Conventions assembled, and never to be renewed or reagitated; do, with the return of peace, demand,

1. Immediate restoration of all the States to their rights in the Union under the Constitution and civil government of the American people.

2. Amnesty for all past political offenses, and the regulation of the elective franchise in the States by their citizens, and the payment of the public debt of the United States as rapidly as practicable.

3. All money drawn from the people by taxation, except so much as is requisite for the necessities of the Government, economically administered, shall be honestly applied to such payments, and where the obligations of the Government do not expressly state upon their face, or the law under which they issued does not otherwise provide that they shall be paid in coin, they ought, in right and justice, to be paid in lawful money of the United States.

4. Equal taxation of every species of property according to its value, that we may equalize the burdens of the public debt and the current expenses of the Government between the people, the laborer and the producer, and the pensioned and the soldier, the producer and the bondholder.

5. Economy in the administration of the Government; the reduction of the standing army and navy; the abolishment of the Freedmen's Bureau, and all political instrumentalities designed to secure negro supremacy; simplification of the system and the discontinuance of unconstitutional boards; so as greatly to reduce the present burden of taxation. Let the burden of taxation now be equalized and lessened; the credit of the Government and the currency made sound; the feeling of nationality restored; enrolling the State militia into National forces in time of peace; a tariff for revenue upon foreign imports, and such equal taxation under the internal revenue laws as will afford incidental protection to domestic manufactures, and as will, without impairing the revenue, impose the least burden upon and best promote and encourage the great industrial interests of the country.

7. Reform of abuses in the Administration, the expulsion of corrupt men from offices, the abrogation of useless offices, the restoration of right of authority to, and the independence of the Executive and Judicial departments of the Government, the subordination of the military to the civil power to the end that the usurpations of the Congress and the despotism of the sword may cease.

8. Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native-born citizens at home and abroad; an assertion of American nationality, which shall command the respect of foreign powers, and furnish an example and encouragement to people struggling for national integrity, constitutional liberty and individual rights, and the maintenance of the rights of naturalized citizens against the absolute doctrine of immutable allegiance, and the claims of foreign powers to punish them for alleged crime committed beyond their jurisdiction.

In demanding these measures and reforms we arraign the Radical party for its disregard of right, and the repeated violations of the public faith, for its trampling down the sacred guarantees of the Constitution, for its tyranny which have marked its career, for the interference of the military with elections, for the unconstitutional and unwarranted interference by Congress with the freedom of the ballot-box, for the force bill system, for the enactment of test oaths, for the establishment of a secret political police, for the system of espionage established in the interest of the central despotism, for the creation of a national debt unprecedented in the annals of human profligacy, and for a failure or refusal to fulfill the promises made in the hour of peril, by which the Government was preserved in the days of its extremest peril.

We denounce the policy of reconstruction which has been proven to be a failure in all the States where it has been tried, and which has resulted in the almost total ruin of the South, and we demand that all the States lately in rebellion shall be immediately restored to their rights in the Union under the Constitution, and that the military arrests, imprisonments, trials and executions, the confiscations and seizures, the forfeitures and disenfranchisements, the test oaths, and all other acts of tyranny committed by the Congress and Executive, subversive of the Constitution, shall be immediately abrogated and annulled.

We denounce the principles and practices by which the Radical party has obtained power and position as proscriptive, tyrannical and infamous, and in defiance of the time-honored principles of free government.

We denounce the corruption which pervades every department of the Government, and the reckless waste of the public treasure, which have exceeded in four years of peace the waste of the war of the rebellion, and we demand the strictest economy and frugality in the administration of the Government, and the application of the most rigid principles of accountability to every department thereof.

We denounce the persistent efforts of the Radical party to inaugurate a military despotism in the place of the civil administration established by our fathers, and we declare that the right of habeas corpus, trial by jury, freedom of the press, and all the safeguards of liberty established by the framers of the Constitution, shall be preserved inviolate.

We denounce the financial imbecility, the want of wisdom, the violation of law, the open disregard of the Constitution, and the corruption which have characterized the administration of Andrew Johnson, in exercising the power of his high office in resisting the aggressions of Congress on the constitutional rights of the States and the people, is entitled to the gratitude of the whole American people, and on behalf of the Democratic party we tender him our thanks for his patriotic efforts in that regard.

Upon this platform the Democratic party appeals to every patriot in the land, to every conservative element and all who desire to support the Constitution and restore the Union, forgetting all past differences of opinion, to unite with us in the present great struggle for the liberties of the people, and that to all such, to whatever party they may have heretofore belonged, we extend the right hand of fellowship and bid all such co-operating with us as friends and brothers.

EAGLE COTTON GINS.

WE are the Sole Agents for the sale of these Gins in Memphis. For beauty of STAPLE, LIGHTNESS OF DRAFT, AND QUANTITY OF LINT COTTON turned out per day, they are unsurpassed. Referred to over one hundred in daily use in every planter who has given them a fair trial. Where mule power is used, they make a saving of from one-quarter to one-third of the rail's over any other GIN. We are also agents for STRAUB'S GRIST MILLS, and WHEELER, CLEMSON & CO.'S CIRCULAR SAWS.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

FOR PRESIDENT,

HORATIO SEYMOUR,

OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,

FRANK P. BLAIR,

OF MISSOURI.

ALABAMA.

—A Wickersham case has turned up in Montgomery. Arthur Bingham, so-called Treasurer of Alabama, has not yet been able to give bond.

—The Mobile Tribune of Saturday, says: A private telegram was received here to-day from Montgomery, stating that J. C. Elliott had qualified and received his commission as Judge of the Circuit Court of this city, and that he would be here to take his seat to-morrow, and swear in Mr. Gustavus Horton as Probate Judge. Col. Wickersham, of the 15th Infantry, it is confidently expected, will be appointed Mayor of this city. It is also thought that C. F. Moulton will take his seat as Judge of the City Court to-morrow.

—The Senate doorkeeper, and the doorkeeper, sergeant-at-arms and chaplain of the House in the Alabama Legislature, are negroes.

—A correspondent of the Mobile Register, writing from Warsaw, Sumpter county, Ala., (on the Oktibbeha river,) says of the crops: In regard to the crops of this section, I must say they are very spotted, some good and some inferior. This is owing to the rains, which have been more partial than I ever saw them. One man has had rain in plenty, while his neighbor, one mile distant, has had none, or only a very light shower, and the result is his corn is ruined—burnt almost up—and cotton very small and not growing any, with a few blooms on the top. One man's cotton is large and growing, and may be set down a good crop, while his neighbor's is very sorry. Buyers are offering twenty cents per pound for the growing crop, which is much better than cotton started last season. But even that does not pay the planter as well as ten cents did before the war, when the planter could have his stock raised and taken care of. With free negro labor our mules are badly used up, the hogs badly killed up, and everything about the farm is generally destroyed as fast as it can be, even with the owner to follow up and do his best trying to keep it together.

—The Montgomery Mail says that large crowds of negroes—men, women and children—are to be seen daily blocking up the avenues to the State Capitol, in the vain hope that something is to be done by the Radicals for their benefit. Poor negroes! the Radicals are deceiving them to their destruction. The crops will suffer in consequence of this assembling of negroes at the Capitol. Carpet-baggers and scalawags will have much to answer for in the way they have deceived the poor negroes.

—The Huntsville Independent says: A soldier named James Weirs, a member of Company B, 15th Infantry, stationed in this city, was found dead yesterday, in Clemens' alley, near the Brewery. He had been drinking. His death is supposed to have been caused by sunstroke.

FLORIDA.

—The Pensacola Commercial notes as "something unusual and commendable," that the city clerk's "docket cannot furnish a new case."

—While firing the national salute on the 4th of July, at Fernandina, a soldier by the name of Leonard had his right arm and left thumb blown off by the premature discharge of the gun.

—Two weeks since the crew of the revenue cutter, Petrel, while hauling the seine on the beach of St. George, near Apalachicola, enclosed a large sawfish, measuring in length fifteen feet.

—The steamship Alabama left Fernandina on her last trip with fifty-three passengers. Her freight was very heavy. She carried cotton and tomatoes on her upper deck. She drew sixteen feet of water.

—The Floridian, of the 20th ult., publishes the census returns of this State for 1867, from which it appears that there were 153,650 inhabitants. In 1860 there were 140,423. The table shows that the increase of 13,236 from 1860 to 1867 is made up of only about one-third whites, and the Floridian attributes this to the greater immigration of blacks, rather than to natural increase.

—The Pensacola Observer says: The next three months will, in a business way, be very quiet; yet with a remarkably fine wash of public health, pleasant weather, and results of prosperous trade for the last six months, the indications are that we will have little croaking, and that this interim will be properly devoted to preparation for the coming session, which promises to be the best Pensacola has had for many years.

—A few days ago some of our jubilatorial friends made a visit to Fort Pickens, on the Santa Rosa shore, and relate the following incident as having occurred while there, and assert the same as a positive fact. One "leopard" and three "man eater's" sharks, averaging twelve feet in length, were captured by the "Fort Pickens Guard," in one of which was found a "conk shell" and two "crab-fish," all alive. From the livers of the sharks was extracted forty-two gallons of oil of the first quality, samples of which can be seen at Geo. Wells. This shows for itself that, with some home industry, we can have a light at little cost to spread its rays over the small portion allotted to us in the livings of life.—West Florida Commercial.

GEORGIA.

—The Atlanta Constitutionalist says: We are told that Joseph E. Brown, before engaging with the Government to prosecute the Columbus prisoners, put himself in market for the highest bid, acting himself as a "prize" to his own claims between the two parties; and that when spoken to by the prisoners he very coolly informed them that the Government was also anxious to secure his services, but that the highest bidder would secure them, as he was on the market for a price.

—There was a tremendous Seymour and Blair illumination and torch-light procession in Macon on the 16th. A thousand transparencies were displayed. An immense crowd lined the streets, and a hundred guns fired for Seymour and Blair.

—The Atlanta Intelligencer of the 17th says: Yesterday the Columbus prisoners were removed from their cells to somewhat better quarters, where they will not be so closely confined, and they will have an opportunity of breathing a little more fresh air. An order to this effect was issued by Gen. Meade, and after a bond was given that the prisoners would not attempt to escape, they were changed from the horrid cells in which they had been confined. Dr. Chipley, father of one of the accused, together with all their counsel, signed the bond, and now they are comparatively free. The state of the testimony just now is, we presume, bond enough that every man of them will "stick" until his honor is freed from stain.

THE Pendleton Escort gets many hard shots in the newspapers. One paper reports that the remnant of it returned home chanting:

"Not a yell was heard, not a greenback note,
As the wave of the Rock Tammany hurried—
Not a bummer discharged his farewell shout
O'er the grave where George lies buried."

Another paper relates that Richard Cox, the cashier of the escort, delegated Pat Cleary to procure supplies for the journey to New York. The purchases were made and Cox inspected the bills: "Fifteen barrels of whisky, all right; one hundred barrels of beer, all right; one barrel of hard bread: what in thunder did you get so much bread for?"

THE FRANKLIN AFFAIR.

Citizens Organizing Into a Vigilance Committee.

All the Particulars Up to Date.

From the Nashville Banner, 21st.]

The city was alive all day yesterday with excited and highly exaggerated rumors about a supposed war of races that has transpired in the vicinity of Franklin.

In Sunday morning's issue we gave the particulars of the shooting of a negro named Wm. Gustine, at Franklin, for brutally outraging the person of a young white girl named Ezell, aged about thirteen years, and also of committing outrages upon the persons of two additional colored girls. His execution took place on Friday night at midnight, and it was supposed to have been done by the Ku-klux, or at least by persons in disguise and unknown to our informants.

The bloody sequel to this tragic affair it is our painful duty to have to record this morning. At half-past twelve o'clock on the Saturday night succeeding the summary execution of the black fiend, a young man by the name of Jeremiah Ezell, a half-brother, we believe, to the young lady who was outraged, was shot and killed near Franklin, on the Carter's Creek pike, by a band of negroes in ambush. The negroes, it is thought, were led by white men, and numbered about fifty.

Young Ezell was with a party of other young men who were returning from Franklin. The party numbered eight persons and were not disguised, and were proceeding quietly along the road. The following are the particulars, so far as we have been able to gather them up to the hour of going to press: On last Saturday evening it was reported in Franklin that the negroes in the vicinity, incensed at the killing of Gustine, were threatening mob violence toward the white citizens, and that they intended to burn the town. A correspondent, who furnishes these particulars, informs us that some of the citizens from the suburbs and around the place, came to him and asked him if he thought they would be needed. He told them to send in about thirty men to hold as a reserve, and that he would come and meet them. At ten o'clock p.m., Saturday night, he rode out three miles, passing a squad of negroes in ambush.

A short distance beyond this point he met the citizens, selected eight of them, and rode into town, disturbing no one, and saying not a word to any body. They remained in town on the watch for an attack for little better than an hour, when, believing there would be no difficulty, our informant told them they had as well go home to their families.

Accordingly, they started, and had got about a mile and half from town, when they were fired upon by a party of negroes and white men, concealed in ambush.

The ambuscade consisted of sixteen negroes and two white men, making eighteen in all.

Young Ezell was shot by the assassins and mortally wounded. A young man named Beasley was also shot through the foot, and his horse was badly hurt.

We have since learned that young Ezell died on Sunday night. The citizens of Franklin were up all night Sunday night, guarding the town, and no little excitement prevailed, in apprehension of further hostile demonstrations on the part of the negro assassins and their white leaders.

There was no disturbance yesterday, though the inhabitants were ready for an emergency, and abundantly prepared for the worst.

A Notorious Criminal.

The St. Joseph, Mo., Gazette gives the following:

We understand that Bond, the notorious murderer, burglar, robber and bush-whacker, was on Wednesday last consigned to his old quarters in the jail of Nehama county, Kansas. Bond is well known in this city as a most reckless and daring thief, and during the years 1862-3, (the reign of martial law in Missouri), carried matters with a high hand—every species of property of a removable kind being subject to the caprice of this truly loyal Kansas jayhawker. But forbearance ceases to be always a virtue, and Bond, who had been petted and praised for raids on the so-called rebels of Missouri, suddenly found himself arrested, confined in the jail of Buchanan county, and charged with wearing the clothes of the Rev. Moses E. Lard. Unable to furnish the requisite bail, he was kept in jail until the next term of the court. When his case was called for trial he was defended by Messrs. Bassett and Tutt, but the testimony was so positive that he was found guilty and sentenced to the State prison for three years. He served out one year of his term, and was then again turned loose upon society. No sooner was Bond released than he again commenced his system of plunder. Gov. Hall, of this city, was among his first victims, from whom he stole two valuable horses. Next we hear of this desperado as the perpetrator of a murder in that county, Kansas, for which he was placed in jail at Seneca, the county seat of Nemaha county, from which he afterwards made his escape, and has until lately been going at large, committing his depredations with impunity. Lately there was a robbery committed in Pettis county by some of Bond's gang. A portion of the stolen property was sent by express to him at Sedalia. He ascertained that a package was at the express office and called to get it, but suspecting that he might be spotted, left without getting it. That night he attempted to break into the office, but when about effecting an entrance, was shot by parties within. Upon being wounded he fled, and the next day was found secreted, with his arm broken, and his face and head filled with shot. In this condition he was taken to his old quarters, to await a trial for murder. It is doubtful whether his trial will be had in the Criminal Court of the county, as the feelings of the community are highly excited against him.

Earthquake Waves on the Pacific.

The San Francisco Bulletin says:

"An earthquake wave which followed the recent eruption in the Sandwich Islands, was transmitted to this coast and recorded on the government self-registering tide gauges at San Francisco and Astoria, in about five hours. On the 23d of December, 1854, a similar wave transmitted from the coast of Japan to the Golden Gate in twelve hours and thirty-eight minutes. It will be recollected that this earthquake wave caused the wreck of the Russian frigate Diana, in the port of Simods, and great loss of life.

"These facts, which are derived from the best authority, convey a very impressive idea of the tremendous power required to disturb the whole body of an ocean, for a distance of from three to five thousand miles, by a movement distinct from its ordinary tidal swing. It will be seen that the revulsion of the great tidal wave at Hawaii reached this coast, distant over two thousand miles, in five hours, and was observed along a stretch of shore over thirteen geographical degrees in length.

—Gold to the amount of $50,000 comes has been exported from Melbourne during the present year. This shows an increase of 160,000 ounces over the same period last year. Of this amount nearly 10 per cent. was transhipped from New Zealand.

—Roscoe Conkling, Republican United States Senator from New York, is married to a sister of Horatio Seymour.

—The Mobile Register copies a poem entitled "The Bummers Host," which was written for and originally published in the APPEAL and credits it to the Rome (Ga.) Commercial.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

NEW YORK, July 22.—There was one case of cholera here yesterday, and one in Brooklyn.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Gen. Blair has written a letter formally accepting the Democratic nomination for Vice President. It is both eloquent and able. He takes bold ground against the Radical outrages against the Constitution, and denounces the Radical leaders in unmeasured terms; he discusses the revolutionary attitude of the Radical party; explains, amplifies, and enforces the views of his first letter, and demands the obedience of the politicians to the will of the people, as expressed at the ballot-box.

The Funding bill passed the House late last night. Boutwell's substitute was rejected.

The President has withdrawn the nomination of Edmund Cooper as Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

A canvass of the Republican members of the House to-day, on a question of adjournment or recess until September or October, showed eighty for recess against twenty-eight for adjournment.

It is probable that the Committee on Foreign Relations will report against the nomination of Ministers for Prussia, Mexico and Spain, but are in favor of Henry Watts as Minister to Russia.

The clerks in the departments controlled by Congress have been assessed one and a half per cent by the Radicals for election funds.

In the Senate last night a bill was passed suspending work on all bridges on the Ohio except the one at Louisville, until a board of engineers shall have investigated in regard to the proper width and reported.

COLUMBIA, July 22.—The Legislature has accepted a donation of land from the United States, for the use of the Agricultural college.

Randolph, a negro, introduced a bill prohibiting a discrimination between the whites and blacks in law cases.

A bill to tax upland cotton one cent, and Sea Island two cents per pound, and rice seven and a half cents per bushel, to defray the expenses of the Legislature, was introduced, denounced as a monstrosity and laid aside.

SAVANNAH, July 22.—A negro excursion here ended in a row. Four negroes were stabbed, and one was drowned.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., July 22.—Reverdy Johnson was banqueted here last night.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

Revolution in New Grenada—A Provisional Government.

The Panama Star of July 7th says:

The uninitiated in the politics of Panama were rather astonished on waking up on Sunday morning to find that a revolution had occurred about five o'clock, the Government been overturned, the President, and a provisional government installed, and all done in the quietest manner possible.

The revolution simply consisted in the ousting President Diaz handing over the government to the commander of the forces, Gen. Ponce, and making himself a voluntary prisoner until a provisional government could be established of which Gen. Ponce has been installed as head. The object of the movement was to keep the Conservative party out of power, as it seems the election throughout the State has gone in their favor, and this could only be effected by dissolving the existing, legitimate government, declaring a revolution and installing a provisional government. As the actors in this curious little political drama have the forces to sustain them, the whole affair has passed off very quietly in Panama; it is feared when the news reaches the interior there will be trouble, but troops are already on the way to enforce subjection, and others were sent last week, no doubt with the same object.

The following officers have been appointed under the new administration:

Commander of the Forces—Colonel Villare i.

Secretary of State—Didimo Parra.

Governor of the Department—Don Juan Sosa.

The Provisional President issued the following decree on the 6.h inst:

DECREE DECLARING THE STATE OF PANAMA IN A STATE OF WAR.

Fernando Ponce, General of the Army of Columbia, and Provisional President of the Sovereign State of Panama, in use of the power conferred upon him, decrees:

Art. 1. The Sovereign State of Panama is declared in a state of war, and in consequence all constitutional guarantees are suspended. The attributes of the rights of nations which detail the proceedings of governments in such cases, are in full force and vigor until public order is restored.

Given in Panama, 6th July, 1868.

The Secretary of State,

HOTELS.

AMERICAN HOUSE,

BOSTON, MASS.

THE very important and extensive improvements which have recently been made in this popular Hotel, the largest in New England, enable the proprietors to offer to Tourists, Families and the Traveling Public, accommodations and conveniences superior to any other Hotel in the city. During the past summer additions have been made of numerous suites of apartments, with bathing-rooms, water-closets, etc., attached; one of Tufts' magnificent passenger elevators, the best ever constructed, conveys guests to the upper story of the house in one minute, the entries have been newly and richly carpeted, and the entire house thoroughly replenished and refurnished, making it, in all its appointments, equal to any hotel in the country.

THE LIFE AND REMAINS

—OF—

Gen. WILLIAM T. HASKELL

Now being compiled and arranged

By Rev. R. H. RIVERS.

SUBSCRIPTIONS are solicited to this work, which, when compiled, will embrace between four and five hundred 12 mo. pages, printed upon calendered paper in bold, clear type, and bound in a creditable manner.

Gen. HASKELL was one of the most brilliant men and eloquent orators that Tennessee has ever given to our common country. This will be shown not only by a brief and truthful narrative of the chief incidents of his eventful life, but by presenting the reader with his Remains, consisting of Poems, Essays, Letters and Orations.

If the personal friends and admirers of the great Tennessean will subscribe liberally at once, the work can be delivered by November, 1868.

The profits arising from the sale of the work will be devoted to erecting a monument to his memory.

Terms—$5 per copy, payable on delivery.

DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL CLUB.

The speakers who will address the Democratic Club of Shelby county, on Saturday evening, July 25th, are George M. Gantt and R. F. Looney, Esqs.

If it should please the Ward and independent Clubs to attend the meeting, each in a body, they will be received by the Central Club with due ceremony and honor. If such is their intention they will please notify the President.

The ladies are respectfully assured that their absence from the meeting would be profoundly regretted.

By order of the President.
W. O. LOFLAND, Rec. Sec.

The Congressional Nominee.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

The Democratic District Convention will meet in Brownsville on the 10th of August to select a candidate to represent this District in the United States Congress. In view of the incoming of another administration before the member elect will take his seat, it is important that we select a true and sound man, as well as one whose antecedents will enable him to take the oath required before taking his seat as a member. There is no dearth of true men in the District, but there is a scarcity of trusty and able men who can take the oath; and as we have one who has been tried, and we know know him to be true, we had better take him. I allude to Dr. Leftwich. He is a true man as we all know; and in these perilous times it is no time to quit one that we know to be true and experiment on one untried. There is no man amongst us aspiring to the position but is young enough to wait for more quiet times to seek a seat in Congress. The late President Polk used to tell a good story of a party of gentlemen mostly from Tennessee, who went out to North Alabama to attend the public land sales, and among them, the estimable General Coffee, who was a very large man. In crossing the Tennessee river, then at high tide, the flat launched with the travelers, and in three hours sank about midway the stream. The General could not swim; and as the flat went down he seized upon the mane of a small but stout pony nearest to him. The pony and the General were making pretty good time for the shore, but there was a very large muscular horse, unincumbered, swimming slowly alongside. Some of the company seeing the struggles of the pony, hailed the General and told him to seize upon the large horse. "No, sir!" exclaimed the General, "it is no time to swap horses!" We are in the stream, and Leftwich may be somewhat of a pony, but he is a muscular little fellow, and we know he is game and true as steel. Let us stick to him. C.

Grand Ratification Meeting of the People of Madison County, at Jackson, July 20, 1868.

Pursuant to notice, the largest and most enthusiastic meeting of the Conservative citizens of Madison county ever seen before was held on the 20th inst., at the courthouse at Jackson, Tenn. The meeting was called to order by Gen. A. W. Campbell, who moved that John J. Brooks, Esq., take the chair. The motion was carried unanimously and Mr. Brooks presided. On motion John W. Gates was chosen Secretary. The Chairman then explained that the object of the meeting was to ratify the National Democratic nomination for President and Vice President.

A committee, consisting of W. W. Gates, John W. Campbell, S. P. Caldwell, John C. Greer and Dr. Robt. Fenner was then appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of this meeting; and while they were absent, Gen. A. W. Campbell was loudly called for, and addressed the meeting with that good sense and enthusiasm which characterizes all of his public efforts. His account of the proceedings at the great National Democratic Convention was listened to with profound attention, and the loud cheers of the audience indicated the deep interest which the people feel in all that pertains to the salvation of our country from Radical rule and ruin. At the conclusion of Gen. Campbell's speech, the committee reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously and enthusiastically adopted:

WHEREAS, We, the people of Madison county, without distinction of party, ignoring all past political differences, have met together to express our opinions in regard to the political questions of the day, do hereby declare our uncompromising hostility to the principles and practices of the Radical party, and pledge ourselves to use all honorable means to secure its defeat in the ensuing election for a President and Vice-President of the United States.

That we regard as our political and personal enemies all persons who advocate the disfranchisement of any portion of the white race on account of their political opinions, and will use every effort to disfranchise them in social, private and business relations.

That while we are a law-abiding and peace-loving people, and are determined that nothing shall be done by us to distrust the public peace, we are resolved that no further invasion of our rights as citizens of a free government shall be made without resistance by all the means that God has given us.

That we regard the black race among us as innocent of the outrages that have been committed against us as a people, and will only hold those responsible who have deceived and misled them for wicked purposes.

That under the Constitution no State has the right to keep a standing army in time of peace, and that calling out the State militia, or the organization of troops under any other guise, to influence and control elections, is without warrant of law, is a tyrannical usurpation of authority, and oppression of an already over-taxed people.

That a tame submission to arbitrary power is slavish and unworthy of a free people.

That to maintain our freedom we must be ever ready to meet force with force in defense of our rights; therefore,

Resolved, That we most cordially approve and indorse the wise and patriotic platform of principles declared by the National Democratic party, in the Convention held in the city of New York, on the 4th day of July, 1868.

Resolved, That the nomination of Horatio Seymour for President, and Francis P. Blair for Vice President, meets our enthusiastic approval, and that we pledge to them our warmest and united support.

Resolved, That in calling ourselves Democrats, we do so without reference to former party distinctions, but to consolidate the united strength of conservation to restore our country to Constitutional government.

Resolved, That for the purpose of securing unity of action we recommend the organization of a Democratic club in each civil district of Madison county.

Resolved, That delegates be appointed to attend a Convention to select an elector and to nominate a candidate for Congress for the Eighth Congressional District.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the West Tennessee Whig, the Nashville Banner, the Memphis Appeal and Avalanche.

After the adoption of the above resolutions, Major Bullock, R. C. Elliott, of Sumner county, and Gen. Wm. H. Jackson were called for and addressed the meeting. The utmost harmony prevailed throughout the proceedings, and the people were perfectly jubilant, with the hope that success, peace, prosperity and happiness would crown their efforts in the coming election.

JOHN J. BROOKS, Chairman.
JOHN W. GATES, Secretary.

MEMPHIS, July 23, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

To-day the "Old Folks" have a grand pic-nic, and I propose to give you a few items for the occasion, so that the "young ones" can see who the "Old Folks" are. My recollection is not very distinct farther back than 1811, and I will not undertake to recall the names of all who were residing here even then. I will give you first the names of the "beaux" of that year: Edwin Hickman, Sam. Mosby, Wm. T. Avery, W. K. Poston, W. B. Miller, Jacob N. Moon, Alex. Trigg, Wm. Thomas, Col. J. H. McMahon, Gen. Joseph R. Williams, Fielding A. Lucas, E. M. Anderson, John Park, Joseph McKibbin, Fred. Nelson, J. S. Lanphier, S. B. Williamson, David H. Townsend, Sam. Park, J. B. Mosely, B. Graham, J. Rich Ray, A. M. Latham, H. F. Farnsworth, Albert Wood. These were all considered as "good, safe chances" by the ladies; and we had many belles here in 1841. I recollect the Misses Walkers, Miss Susanks, Miss Martha Worsham, Miss Mary Park, Miss Sallie Anderson, Miss Mary Wyatt, Miss Lucy Greenlaw, Miss Margaret Semmes, Miss Lou Pope, Miss Flora Battle, Miss Matilda Boyd. Of the merchants of 1841, I recollect the following firms: Nelson & Titus, White, Waldran & Co., Neil McCool, W. Howard & Co., R. A. Parker, J. M. Patrick, F. A & M. Owen, Goodman & Means, Fowlkes & Quarles, S. & J. Fowlkes, Jas. E. Merriman, M. Gaffney, P. McKeon, Wm. McKeon, Joseph Bohannon, J. Fowlkes & Co., Miller & Moon, Sam. Mosby, M. B. Winchester, Jos. Cooper. Townsend & Williamson, Carter & Frets, John Park, Sam. Park, David Park, William Park; Sewell & Co., Wm. Thomas, G. B. Caudee, F. Newhall & Co., N. Bond, T. W. Wilkinson & Co., Nat. Anderson. There were several others, but I cannot recall them. Thos. H. Allen, W. W. Hart and others were located at Fort Pickering under the hill, but afterwards moved up to Memphis. J. D Williams and Tom Gale were with B Graham; Wm. Joyner and Henry Massey were with Miller & Moon; Thomas Mynatt with Sewell & Co.; Matthew Hawks with F. Newhall & Co.; J. M. Provine with N. & S. Bond; John Samons with S. Mosby. The great confectionary of the city was kept by Wm. Hack, Esq., or Hack & Nesbitt. The ball room was over this establishment.

Memphis, in 1841, as now, was a very religious city. Class-meeting was held Sunday evenings in the rear of F. Newhall & Co.'s. Sam. Hayter, Holy Parker, Stacker Price and other choice spirits were often in attendance. Mint juleps from Hack's, and watermelons, were the luxuries on these occasions.

The first steamer from New Orleans that reached Memphis after September 1, 1841, was the "Louisiana," Captain Larkin F. Wood. The writer, with others, went aboard to look at the manifest, and seeing some twenty sick persons lying on the cabin floor, inquired what ailed them? "Yellow fever," was the reply. "Such a getting down stairs" as took place, the reader can imagine. Several patients were taken ashore, but Capt. Wood was down with it, too ill to be moved, died, and was buried here.

The first steamer from Cairo that reached here after September 1, 1841, was the West Tennessee, Capt. Brooks, since proprietor for many years of the Brooks House, on Lafayette square, New Orleans.

Dr. Selon Borland, Drs. Frayser, Shanks, Mabry, Wyatt Christian, M. B. Sappington, were our leading physicians. Our prominent lawyers were Judge Barry, W. T. Brown, Leroy Pope, Henry G. Smith, Thos. J. Turley, Frederick P. Stanton, Seth Wheatly.

Thus much as to 1841. How many of us will meet at the pic-nic to-day? As we look over the list, we see that our number is rapidly decreasing, and are reminded that we, too, must soon sleep "that sleep that knoweth no waking."

MUSTANG GRAY.

TENNESSEE.

—We glean the following items from the Nashville Banner of the 21st:

The various undertakers of the city were yesterday notified that further interments in the City Cemetery had been prohibited.

Henry Farmer gave a very brilliant little soiree musicale at Music Temple, Monday night, to the infinite delight of a cultivated and fashionable audience, and to the substantial benefit of the little orphans at the Protestant Asylum.

A large manufactory has just been completed at Gallatin for the manufacture of calicoes, domestics, etc. The machinery necessary is being shipped from the North, and will be put in running order in the course of a month. Its estimated cost, with all its machinery, will be $300,000.

We understand that there is a movement on foot among some of the shrewd business men of Nashville, for the establishment of a large sugar refinery in the vicinity of this city next fall, that it is to cost $200,000, and that negotiations are at present being made to obtain the requisite amount of capital.

The first blow was struck yesterday in the transmogrification of Union alley into a full-fledged street. Workmen commenced tearing down the office recently occupied by Dr. Nichol. In a short time Union street will be putting on city airs. Now is the time for an opera house opposite the new theater.

A portion of the employees of the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad Company were paid about $20,000 yesterday. The payment of the others will be continued to-day and to-morrow. We understand that the road was indebted to them about $60,000. A construction train will probably run to-day or to-morrow, to make all necessary repairs. Trains will be running regular by the latter part of this week.

—The Nashville Gazette of the 21st learns that John Ray, son of a minister living at Hartsville, Sumner county, was struck by lightning at Gallatin on Saturday last, and instantly killed.

—Tuesday last a Mr. John T. Keyes and his daughter, Miss Pet Keyes, living on the farm of Mr. J. D. Tadlock, two miles west of Jonesboro, were struck and seriously injured by lightning—the daughter being thrown into a state of unconsciousness for some twenty-four hours. We learn, also, that a laborer on the East Tennessee and Western North Carolina Railroad, by the name of Rowe, while at or near the road, was struck and instantly killed by lightning, on the same day—his head being bursted literally into atoms, and his clothes torn entirely from off his body, leaving him a terribly mangled and entirely naked corpse.—Nashville Banner, 21st.

TERRE HAUTE, July 22.—Hon. Dan. W. Voorhees was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Seventh District, to-day.

NEW JERSEY.

TRENTON, July 22.—The Democratic State Convention to-day, nominated Peter D. Vroom for Governor, and passed resolutions indorsing the National platform and nominations.

NEW YORK.

BUFFALO, July 22.—The Fenian Congress is in secret session to-day, and representatives from all parts of the country are present. Gen. O'Neil is here, and Gen. Spear will be here to-night. Much speculation is indulged in relative to the business of the Congress. A Fenian picnic is advertised for Monday next. The sessions of the Congress are to be conducted in secret, and armed sentinels guard the doors.

HAVANA.

HAVANA, July 22.—The Managra-Venezuelan Government has sent an agent here to purchase a schooner, ammunition, etc.

The American Minister had left Venezuela for fear of his life.

The followers of Cabral, on the island, were preparing for a descent on St. Domingo.

A cyclone had visited Barbadoes, and several vessels were dashed together and a number of lives lost.

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, July 22.—R. B. Bullock was inaugurated as Governor of Georgia to day. His address was brief and laudatory of the Radical party and condemnatory of the President's policy. It says: "Experience has proved the justice and wisdom of conferring suffrage on the negroes."

Gen. Meade and staff were present at the ceremony, which passed off quietly.

Both Houses of the Legislature have adjourned over until Friday.

It is reported that the Millitary Commission, for the trial of the Columbus prisoners, will be dissolved to-day, and the prisoners remanded to the civil authorities.

SAVANNAH, July 22.—A difficulty occurred last night in a drinking saloon, between Wm. R. Hopkins, Tax Receiver, and Isaac Russell, Deputy Sheriff, which resulted in the shooting of Hopkins, who died instantly. Russell claims that he fired in self defense. The affair caused great excitement among the negroes, who, at the beating of a drum, assembled several hundred strong, with guns and clubs, threatening to lynch Russell, and demolish his house. On learning that Russell had been taken to jail, they proceeded to attack it, but were dispersed by the police. The excitement is somewhat abated this morning. The prompt abeyance of the signal shows that the negroes are fully organized in this city.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The general understanding among the members is, that there has been some mistake in the announcement made in a message from the President, two days ago, that he had signed the tax bill, and it is now stated that he has not signed it, but proposes to veto it, because it authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to appoint supervisors, with power to remove officers appointed by the President, with the consent of the Senate.

The Committee on Reconstruction this morning appointed Paine a sub-committee to examine Gen. Gilmore's report. They also appointed a sub-committee to examine and prepare the bills which are to be reported to-morrow, one of which is a bill providing a provisional government for Texas, pending the sitting of the Convention.

It is the intention to put the United States troops under the control of the Convention.

A brother of Gen. Hamilton's and several others say such action is necessary, in consequence of the numerous outrages on loyal men.

The Texas delegates to the National Democratic Convention deny this statement and say they can show the contrary to be the fact.

The Committee on Ways and Means had under consideration to day a report on the warehouse system. The vote stood 4 against it and 4 for it. Logan is absent, but it is understood that he will vote against the report.

The President has nominated to the Senate Alvin C. Hawkins, of Tennessee, as Consular General at Havana.

The President has issued a proclamation to the effect that Alabama has ratified the 14th amendment.

In the Criminal Court to-day Judge Wylie overruled the motion to quash the indictment against John Surratt for the murder of President Lincoln, which motion was made on the ground that the Grand Jury by whom it was found were not legally drawn up.

A meeting of Southern Representatives and Union men was held to day, with W. Whitmore, of South Carolina, in the chair, and Capt. H. F. Fisher, of Mississippi, as Secretary. A committee was appointed to draft resolutions. Gen. Fremont was introduced to the meeting. He expressed deep sympathy for the suffering loyalists of the South, and hoped that Congress would not adjourn until full and ample relief was given them. An address was also made by Mullins, of Tennessee.

McKee, of Kentucky, and French, of North Carolina, from the committee, reported resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, advising Congress, in view of the President's late veto, and the Democratic nomination of Blair, to remain in session until after the Presidential election; and that Congress ought to legislate immediately for the relief of the loyal people of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas, in such a way as to secure to these States loyal State Governments; condemning the President's utterances as subversive of every principle upon which the Government was founded, and dangerous to the liberties of the people.

Dr. Clift, a member from Georgia, opposed the resolutions, and offered others favoring the impeachment of the President, and pledging the meeting to use their utmost endeavors to prevent an adjournment until he be removed from office, or until articles should be presented, which were adopted, and after some remarks by others, the meeting adjourned until this evening.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—A letter from Gen. Dyer, asking for a trial by a court martial for the offenses imputed to him in the report of the joint Committee on Ordnance, was referred to the Military Committee.

The credentials of J. A. Sawyer and Z. J. Robinson, Senators elect from South Carolina, were reported by the Committee on Elections.

Howard presented a protest from certain members of the South Carolina Legislature against the admission of Sawyer, charging him with having been engaged in blockade running, being a rebel office holder, etc.

A motion prevailed allowing Robinson to be sworn in, and certain documents, containing charges against the loyalty of Sawyer, were then read.

After a lengthy discussion, during which Robinson, the newly elected Senator from South Carolina, declared the charges against Sawyer, to have originated from Dr. Mackey, the rival candidate against Sawyer, and as being utterly unfounded, and said he would vouch for his Republicanism and ability to take the oath. A motion to refer all the papers in the case to the Judiciary Committee, was rejected by 17 to 27, and he was sworn in as the second Senator from South Carolina.

Sherman then called for the special order, the motion relating to the adjournment.

After some further debate the Senate agreed to adjourn on Friday until the third Monday in September.

The House amendments to the funding and Alaska appropriation bills, were non-concurred in, and a Conference Committee appointed.

The bill to protect American citizens abroad was then taken up for consideration.

HOUSE.

F. W. Kellogg (?) was sworn in, and took his seat as a member from Alabama.

A bill relieving Simeon Corley, member elect from South Carolina, and also Michael Hober, of Louisiana, and John Milledge, of Georgia, from legal and political disabilities, was passed.

A resolution was adopted allowing the Investigating Committee to investigate charges against Judge Busteed, to sit during the recess.

Sypher introduced a joint resolution to aid in repairing the levees of the Mississippi river, and to provide for the payment of citizens of Louisiana for quartermaster's stores, furnished the Unit d States.

The Senate's amendment to the postal law bill was concurred in, and a Committee of Conference asked for, as was also the Senate's amendment to the Alaska appropriation bill.

The Senate's amendment to the House bill for the relief of the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians were concurred in; also the amendments to the Post Route bill.

The Senate bill regulating the presentation of bills to the President, and the return of the same, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The Senate bill to incorporate the National Life Insurance Company of the United States, was then introduced and passed.

DIED.

WASSON—At her father's residence, on Linden street, June 25, 1868, mrs. JULIA C. WASSON, wife of Dr. J. B. Wasson, of this city.

In another home the light of earthly joy is extinguished. Across another door-step the shadows of bereavement have fallen—shadows that will grow longer as the evening of life wears away. The gentle wife is no more. The affectionate daughter, the loving sister, the mother, who had just felt for the first time her first born's breath," has passed away. The flowers of Elmwood are upon a mound of earth which is being daily watered with tears and thither the thoughts of surviving ones, like bands of unseen mourners, are hourly wending their way. To the stranger's eye it may be only one of the numberless graves that people this great City of the Dead. To us it is the hallowed resting place of a beautiful casket, from which the immortal jewel has been taken to shine in the Redeemer's crown.

It would be impossible, in a brief notice like this, to give any adequate expression to our sense of the modest worth, the chaste beauty and the unselfish devotion of the life that has been brought so suddenly to a close. Seldom have we seen one so gifted by nature to be a source of happiness to all around her. Gentle, amiable and affectionate in disposition, full of native courtesy, refinement and sympathy, she seemed to be always cheerful herself, and always desirous to impart cheerfulness to others. Her presence, as she moved from day to day in the modest sphere of woman's duty and influence, shed a charm, not only over her own dwelling of which she was the idol, but over the social circle of which she was the delight. "None knew her but to love her, nor named her but to praise."

It was religion that gave to the character of the departed one that which constituted its highest charm. Gentleness and amiability of nature had been refined and sanctified by Divine grace. The cornerstone had been polished by the great Architect after the similitude of a palace. For ten years she had been a faithful, devotel follower of Christ, and member of the Second Presbyterian Church of this city, living in daily communion with God, in daily growth in grace, in daily preparation for the Kingdom of Heaven. Her favorite copy of the Scriptures, in which she delighted to "meditate by day and by night," contains all through its pages the pencil marks that seem to us like the foot-prints of the immortal spirit as it passed "from strength to strength" until it "appeared in Zion before God." The silent chamber to which she retired every day for private devotion, if its walls could speak, would be eloquent of hours spent in communion with Heaven—times when the spirit was privileged, like Moses upon Pisgah's summit, to look over and view its promised inheritance. Sainted spirit! Bright indeed is the inheritance! Happy the exchange!—leaving to us the sorrow, now fourfold for thy loss—receiving for thyself "the crown of rejoicing which He, the righteous Judge, shall give to us in that day."

May the balm of Heaven's consolation rest upon bleeding hearts. To Him who is the fountain of mercy and grace, we commend our brother, from whose heart the sunlight has faded; in whose night there shines no star but the Star of Bethlehem. To our covenant God, we commend the little child, whose life the mother purchased with her own. And, oh, may He be near to those parents whose agonizing hearts bind for their eldest child, the first that they learned to love, and to the sister and brother, and to the little one who scarcely realize their loss, and other near and dear friends. Through these sanctified trials may all be redeemed to constitute an unbroken family in Heaven. A FRIEND.

CITY MATTERS.

NOTICE.

City subscribers to the APPEAL, daily or weekly, who may desire to leave the city for the summer, can have their papers sent them regularly by leaving a memorandum at the Counting-room of the APPEAL, No. 13 Jefferson street.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Correspondents who wish to have any attention paid to their communications must observe the following rules:

Be brief, concise and to the point, avoid the "flowers of rhetoric," and confine yourself to a plain statement of facts. Write on but one side of the paper in a clear hand, and with pen and ink, giving your words and sentences plenty of room. In all cases the real name and address of the writer must accompany the manuscript. Articles which redound to personal or individual benefit, or are of a personal nature, will only be inserted as "advertisements" or "paid cards."

TWENTY THIRD DAY — Thursday.—Sun rises 5:07; sets 7:05.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The meeting of delegates to select a Congressman and Electors for the Eighth District of Tennessee, will be held at Brownsville on the 10th of August.

THANKS to Felix Cross, Esq., for late papers.

A MACARONIC.—The fishing excursion so eloquently described in the Ledger yesterday.

THE WEATHER.—Up to noon yesterday the sun beamed down with a fury that was irresistible. In the coolest rooms in the city the thermometer stood 92° to 93° Fahrenheit, and under a shed on Main street, it rose to 102°. About one o'clock clouds began to arise in the east and south, and about half-past three o'clock a most refreshing rain set in.

ANOTHER RICHMOND IN THE FIELD. We learn that the Radical party, which is already bifurcated into two most rantankerous factions, is in danger of a still further disintegration and defection from its ranks—a prominent young scalawag lawyer of the J. P. courts, having been nominated by his many nigger friends and admirers as a candidate for Congressman for the State at large. We await with breathless anxiety the result of this further attack upon the lines of the Radical party.

SUNSTROKE.—We heard of but one case of sunstroke yesterday and that, we are most happy to record, was not fatal. Col. John Bullock, walking up Second street yesterday, about eleven o'clock, complained of feeling very badly, and went into a saloon to rest. He exclaimed to his companion that he was very ill, and sent him for a doctor. Dr. Sneider came in just at that time, and seeing the nature of the case, applied the proper restoratives, with complete success. The Colonel will no doubt be on the streets again to-day.

IUKA SPRINGS.—Our readers (those who have the leisure and the 'wherewith' to go thither), must not fail to go to the grand hop, at the Iuka Springs, to-morrow night. Messrs. Steffey & Barchus are sparing no pains to make their beautiful resort as delightful as a paradise, and deserve the support and countenance of the public. We learn that a large number of our beaux and belles are going out to-morrow. We wish them a pleasant time, and hope they will find everything "what their fancies painted it."

DECLINED.—We are in receipt of several communications from our friends at various points, which, from their length and the nature of the subjects on which they are written, we are compelled most respectfully to decline. Since the close of the scholastic year we have been overwhelmed with detailed accounts of school and college exhibitions and examinations, some of which we published entire, but by far the greater portion we were compelled to rewrite and abridge. The communications of that description now on hand we must beg leave to decline, as being of no earthly interest to the general reader, and our space is too valuable to fill up with any other sort of matter than that which interests every one. Again we urge on our correspondents to be brief if they would have their communications used. In accounts of political meetings brevity is especially desirable, the great number of clubs, etc., rendering it absolutely necessary indeed.

EIGHTH WARD DEMOCRATIC CLUB. There was a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Democrats of the Eighth ward, held on Poplar street, and rousing addresses were made by the President J. L. H. Taylor, Capt. Van Anderson, W. H. Andrews, and others. A list of over fifty members was handed in, and committees were appointed to canvass the ward thoroughly in order to make it, as it has always been, Democratic. The Eighth is on the right track, and mean work between this and November next. They have in contemplation the erection of a stand in Market Square where the best talent of the city will instruct them in the sound principles of Democracy. The following appointments were made by the Chair, on motion:

Executive Committee—William Ringwald, Peter H. Donnelly, Henry Marks, G. H. Berger.

Committee on Speaking—Capt. Van Anderson, Thos. Moffitt, Alexander Mayer.

J. W. Smither was unanimously elected by the Club, Secretary, vice Joseph Musso, Jr., unable to serve.

A stand will be erected by Wednesday next, when prominent speakers will be present to address the meeting.

PERSONAL.—Col. Jacob Frolich, of the White County Record, is in town—just back from the Democratic Convention.

Col. Harry Maury left for his beautiful home at Montrose, on Mobile Bay, yesterday.

AFFRAYS YESTERDAY.

One Man Severely Stabbed and Another Shot.

The stagnation in sensation items for the past two days has been remarkable for Memphis;—a week or ten days having passed since a good local heading could be gotten up. As it is usual, however, here in Memphis, the waters were only "waiting to be troubled;" sensations rarely come alone—get up one shooting or cutting, scrape in the morning, and you are sure to hear of another before night.

William Nelson, an enthusiastic Cox and Grant-fax voter, on the Pigeon Roost road, yesterday had some words with another tarpaulin embodiment of servility and radicalism, who has assumed the name of "Howell Cobb," (by which he is most thoroughly known in police circles,) and threatened to "blow" something he had found out about him to the police. Cobb becoming very indignant and warlike, drew a razor, and swore he would cut Nelson's "front from yah to yah," if he did, and proceeded to forestall his ever doing so, by slitting the weasand beforehand. Nelson, seeing Cobb advance on him, drew a "pepper box" and lambed away at him. Cobb dropped his razor, and yelling that he was killed, struck a bee line for parts unknown, and Nelson, turning to run in another direction, rushed into the sheltering arms of a Metropolitan Policeman, who brought him to the First District Police Station and locked him up. Cobb had not been caught up to 8 o'clock. He is a desperate rascal, and is now "wanted" by the police on several charges.

A stabbing affray occurred yesterday morning, at the Confectionery and Ice Cream Saloon of Gus. Berton, on the corner of Poplar and Fourth streets. There has been a grudge for some time past, between two rival venders of ice cream and soda water, near neighbors in that classic part of the city, named Gusmani, an Italian, and Gus. Berton, a Frenchman. The cause of the feud, it is said, is that Berton informed the police on Gusmani, for selling soda water without having paid his license. Yesterday morning, as Berton was sitting in front of his shop, Gusmani came along with a market basket on his arm. Stopping in front of Berton, he locked him in the face and grinned an ugly grin, which betokened no good to Berton, who saw that it was ominous, and warned him to leave, saying "that he did not wish to have any difficulty with him," arising from his chair as he said it. Gusmani, without saying a word, plunged his hand into the basket, and drawing out a knife, which was wrapped up in a piece of newspaper, made a desperate lunge at Berton. The knife entered the side and striking a rib, came out about a hand's breadth from the point it entered.

The would-be assassin, drawing out his knife, fled rapidly, and Berton seized a chair and attempted to follow him, but after running a few rods, fell exhausted.

The Police were soon on the track of Gusmani, arrested him, and placed him in the first district station house, where he now is, awaiting an examination of the case. The wounded man at the last accounts was doing very well, the wound not being considered dangerous.

THE RADICAL MEETING.

Rich, but Nasty.

The rag-tag and bob-tail of scalawagdom assembled again at the Criminal Court room last night. The object of the meeting was to consider the virtues and qualifications of D. A. Nunn for a candidate to Congress, instead of W. J. Smith, who was shoved through the meeting on Tuesday night. The big and little dogs, curs, hounds and whelps, and all the buzzards and carrion crows of the party were present, and the house was crowded. We tried to get in to see what was going on, during the early part of the evening, but a smell like that of a big alligator or a nest of rattle snakes, or forty skunks, kept us out, and we beat a hasty retreat to the foot of the stairs. We were not there long before we heard a tremendous rush down the steps, as if the meeting had broken up in a row, and about a thousand darkies poured out into the streets, yelling and shouting like so many demons. One of the crowd soon mounted a barrel in front of Woollers, and from him we learned of "de debblish rascality and sheecanery and damned willing" of Fitch and Beaumont, and how the "niggers had been druv out so they could fix all de stealin' demselves." We learned on inquiry that such was the case—or partly so, at least—all of those who were present at the meeting on Tuesday night and voted for Smith having been politely asked to leave. We made our way up stairs, then, and found the courtroom still crowded, and Judge Lewis speaking. He disclaimed personalities, and deprecated them—never used them himself, and we concluded from that, that somebody had been personal, a conclusion which was warranted shortly afterward, by hearing the great Kuklux catcher, Beaumont, (who is called, by courtesy, Colonel, he having been something of that sort in the Confederate army before he deserted,) call the Judge all sorts of bad names, the politest of which was, "hollow-hearted, lying villain."

We would like to dilate on the refreshing scene that we there witnessed for an hour or so, but space forbids. We have only time to say that when we left, both meetings were in full blast, and each member of each meeting was calling each other a member a liar, thief or some other pet name, in the aptitude and fitness of which every honest man in the community will concur. Hurrah for the great fraternal Radical party! Our time will soon come now, for when thieves fall out, honest men get their dues.

SIXTH WARD CLUB.—The officers and members of this Club met pursuant to adjournment, in the Waldran Block. There were about one hundred present. The President, A. G. Morgan, Esq., in the chair.

The minutes of former meeting were read and received. The committee on hall reported that they had secured from Mr. Waldran the use of the present hall free of charge.

The chairman of the committee on by-laws, Mr. Sylvester, reported the series of by-laws which govern the other Clubs, which report was adopted.

Mr. Happek, on the finance committee, reported progress, and asked for an extension of time. Granted.

A committee of three was appointed to announce the organization to the Central Club—and Messrs. Parham, Laurie, and McNight, were named as the committee.

Speeches were made by Mr. Happek, Dr. Bell, of Tipton, and Messrs. Parham and Yerger, and the meeting adjourned until next Monday evening.

FOR TEN DAYS ONLY.—W. Y. Cirode, assignee of P. I. Huette & Co., bankrupts, will sell the balance of the stock at No. 195 Main street, at twenty per cent. below New York and manufacturers' cost, in lots to suit purchasers. Fancy goods, drugs, paints, oils, perfumery, etc. jy23 eod 10t

BARBECUE AT CENTER HILL.

Grand Reunion of the People.

Enthusiastic Democratic Ratification Meeting "Over the Border."

Mississippi and Tennessee have a Jolly Good Time.

The preparations which had been progressing for some days past for a grand social and political reunion and barbecue, of the citizens of Center Hill and its neighborhood along the border, culminated on Tuesday; and the result was a most gratifying success, both as a pleasant social gathering of old families and friends, and as a political demonstration and ratification meeting.

The arrangements which were in the hands of a committee appointed from each of the societies of Center Hill, were admirable, and embraced everything that could conduce to the pleasure, physical and intellectual, and the comfort of the expected multitude. It was intended at first that the gathering should be purely social in its character, participated in by the Agricultural, Debating, Dialectic, and Youths' societies of Center Hill, and their friends; but recent events have given a democratic tone to every meeting which is white and decent, and it was determined that the occasion should be seized on to ratify the doctrines of the Democracy, and the nominees of the party for President and Vice President. Col. Landon C. Haynes and Gen. Pike were invited to attend and deliver addresses, but from some cause Col. Haynes could not attend. Gen. Pike, however, accepted the invitation, and in company with him we left the city on Tuesday morning, on the early freight train, for Forest Hill, from which, distant five or six miles in a southerly direction, is the little burgh of Center Hill. The services of the old Memphis brass and string band had been secured for the day, and it was to have gone on the train with us; but owing to the dilatoriness of some of the members, was left behind. The delinquents, however, arrived shortly after our train left, and obtaining a "special," caught up with us at Germantown. Arriving at Forest Hill, we found any quantity of transportation in wait to carry the expected guests over to the barbecue, and the gentlemen managing it were very much disappointed at the smallness of the delegation from our city.

A pleasant drive of half an hour, beneath the huge trees of Nonconnah bottom, brought us to the State line, just beyond which, about five hundred yards, is Center Hill. The barbecue grounds were about three quarters of a mile farther on, near the house of Mr. Stewart.

Arrived at the grounds, our first sentiments, after those of admiration at the beauty of the spot selected, was astonishment at the extent of the preparations. A large arbor had been erected, beneath the spreading branches of the trees, capable of shadowing full six hundred persons, and under which were seats for that many—occupied already, when we arrived, almost entirely by ladies.

As soon as it was known on the grounds that General Pike was approaching, the societies formed in procession, and, under the leadership of the marshals of the day, went forth, accompanied by the band of music, to meet him, and accompanied him to the stand, where he was received with great applause.

Dr. McCargo, the chairman and speaker of the joint committee, came forward and delivered an address, of which the following is a synopsis:

The agricultural and literary societies of this place have done me the honor to select me as one of the speakers on this occasion. Other gentlemen were invited from a distance, and we had expected to see and hear them to-day, and therefore it is expected of me to be brief—indeed I am before you simply to offer a few remarks explanatory of our objects in meeting here to-day—which are two-fold—each equally deserving our admiration and approbation, and auspicious of a brighter and better future. The first of these is the noble energy and industry displayed by our youth, who have gone to work to build up the shattered interest of the country by a system of self-instruction; and the second is the great political movement of the 4th of this month, at New York, which has for its object the restoration of peace to our downtrodden country.

The speaker alluded with deserved pride to the amount which had been accomplished by the young men of the neighborhood in the short space of time since the close of the war. He depicted the awful state of desolation in which the country was left, and asked if it would have been wonderful if they had abandoned all hope? But they had battled against these evils, and conquered, and to-day you are enjoying the smiles of these beautiful ladies, as well deserved honors.

The second object in view, continued the speaker, is the ratification and indorsement of the proceedings of the great convention of patriots and statesmen recently held in New York. The people have begun to see their danger, and are preparing to overt it. When the Confederate soldier laid down his arms on the field of battle he did it under the solemn pledge, on the part of the Government, that he was not to be molested so long as he obeyed the laws of the land. We all then supposed that the war was over; but not so. Congress, disregarding the pledges made by the Government, have carried on an unrelenting war against us from that day to this, and has heaped upon us every insult and indignity that their malice could invent! The speaker said:

"We do not believe the heart of the Northern people were in this,—that it was only a faction. The plain, outspoken, unequivocal and unmistakable language of the platform of the great National Conservative Democratic party is evidence of the truth of our position. A new era, gentlemen, is drawing upon us; the days of wrong-doing and scalawagism are rapidly drawing to a close. The people have said it; the fiat has gone forth; and we confidently look forward to the idea of November next for a speedy restoration of constitutional liberty, a speedy restoration of the equality of the States in the Union, a speedy restoration of amity and fraternity between the North and the South, and the opening up of a higher and brighter career of happiness, prosperity and glory to the nation. But the elaboration of these great truths I leave to abler hands, and will content myself with but one additional remark. Actuated by a common interest, actuated by the recollection of common injuries endured and common sufferings borne, and inspired by a common hope in the future, Tennessee and Mississippi strike hands to-day across the line, and renew their former pledge of unalterable determination to suffer no power under Heaven—let the consequences be what they may—to make them swerve from their allegiance to their own section, or forget the high and holy duty they owe their country, themselves, their families, and their race."

At the conclusion of the address, which was vociferously applauded, the Doctor read the programme of the exercises which were to ensue—first of which was the reading a copy of the National Democratic Platform. This was done by Capt. Pat. H. Strickland, from a copy of the Avalanche.

Dr. J. M. McNeil, chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, then reported and read the following preamble and resolutions, which were put to vote and adopted unanimously as the sense of the meeting:

WHEREAS, The times demand an expression of public sentiment to show that a thorough unanimity exists in the Democracy, and all opposed to Radicalism and its baleful effects and consequences, throughout the length and breadth of the whole country:

Resolved, That we, the white Conservative Democratic element of the community of Center Hill, DeSoto county, Mississippi, do most heartily and sincerely approve of and concur in the aforesaid platform and declarations as adopted by the Democracy of the whole Union in convention assembled; and,

Resolved, That we do pledge ourselves, our honors and our fortunes to maintain and uphold the same; and,

Resolved, furthermore, That we do most heartily concur in and approve of the nomination of Horatio Seymour and Frank P. Blair, as the candidates of the Conservative Democratic party for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency of the United States, and do pledge ourselves and our sacred honors to use every exertion and all honorable means to elect these our candidates to the said offices.

The band which had interspersed the proceedings all along, here played Dixie most beautifully, and at the close of the music, the chairman stepped forward and said:

"All who are present have heard of the Memphis APPEAL, and those who have not, if any there be, should do so. I have the honor and the pleasure to introduce to you now, ladies and gentlemen, the talented and famous editor of that sterling paper, Gen. Albert Pike."

General Pike being thus introduced said:

"It is but proper, ladies and gentlemen, that I should say a few words, by way of apology and explanation. Having been invited to make an address by a literary society, I supposed that the occasion would be a literary one, and not political. I therefore prepared an essay suitable for such an occasion. I could have made you a political speech without preparation. With these few words, I will proceed to address, or rather read you the following:

[Owing to the crowded State of our columns, we have found it impossible to use the whole of the General's speech, and consequently have taken only the concluding portion.]

To be truly great and free is, to bear with patience sufferings and calamities which even to Hope seem infinite; to forgive wrongs darker than night, bitterer than death; to defy arbitrary and merciless Power; to love; to bear and forbear with weakness, lukewarmness, error, desertion and ingratitude; to change not just purposes; to falter not in seeking to effect them; to repent not of engaging in what may seem a hopeless struggle with Tyranny and Wrong; to die, if need be, in defence of human rights; to refuse, at all hazards, to abandon your country's cause, pledge your faith to her enemies, or rescue property from confiscation or life from hazard, by insincere and dishonorable oaths.

If a Roman citizen had deserted Rome in her extremity, when her dead lay thick on the fatal field of Cannæ, and, remaining within the Carthaginian lines, had sworn faith to the foe and hostility to Rome, the renegade would have been execrated in all the Temples, and devoted to the Infernal Gods. That it was done to save wealth, to live secure while Hannibal marched against the Capitol, or even to avoid torture and death, would have been received, if pleaded in extenuation, with a shout of derision that would have reached the skies. Is it any less unworthy of a man to desert his State when the oppressor's brutal feet trample her prostrate form; to join those who so oppress her, and with them to vote to continue the disfranchisement and servitude of those who served with the apostate, under the same flag, and are not base enough to purchase safety with dishonor?

There was a city once, in the more heroic ages, whose people refused to accept terms from a victor, and one and all, magistrates, priests, artizans, the populace, women and children, crowding into their ships, spread their sails, and over the blue waters of the ocean sped away, to seek new homes under unknown skies, the abandoned city standing a monument, to teach every people in every age, that no fate which can befall a man or people, is so sad as subjugation, except by a base submission by the purchase of safety and immunity, given with contempt and received with shame.

The deed that was noble then would be noble now, if it could be done; and the world would profit by it, if startled from its sordid selfishness, by so emphatic a protest against the lust of power crushing out a people's aspirations for independence, and with a thin-veiled barbarism making war upon the peaceful citizen, and winning success by forced oaths, exile, the torch, and the plundering of homes; by so stern a refusal to submit to the degrading rule of an unmanly and ungenerous conqueror, or the more degrading government of their own freed negro slaves.

Return again, heroic days, when the country was the mother, and her children cheerfully died for her, and were not parasitical vermin that fed upon her! Return again, days of the glory of Human Nature, rude and unlearned as men then were, when to desert one's country was eternal dishonor; when Regulus urged Rome to continue the war against Carthage, and returned to Carthage to die; when, though the successful cause pleased the Gods, that to which fortune was adverse pleased Cato; in which one, embarking on the public service in a storm could say, 'It is necessary I should go: it is not necessary I should live:' in which woman emulated the heroism of man; and when the Roman youth, seeing daily in the Atrium the statues of his ancestors, learned from his cradle to emulate their greatness, and to know no mistress so well worth living and dying for, as his Country.

Bring with you the golden days of sympathy and loving kindness, that men may do and dare more for love than for even faith and zeal! Bring peace among the nations, comfort to the homes of the poor, toleration and love in the churches, uninterestedness in the councils of the State, fair trade in the market, good will in society, kindness and forbearance in the humblest and the highest homes, that so this earth and humanity may fulfill their destiny.

Return, days of the golden age of the Republic, when the States were peers and sovereigns, and sole parties to the solemn compact of the Constitution, the faithful performance of whose provisions by each was guaranteed by its faith and honor, and the reserved right of each were solemnly guaranteed by all; when knaves were not leaders of the House of Representatives, nor convicted liars candidates for the Presidency, nor the fathers of mulattoes teachers of public morality, and impeachers of Presidents; and the Camerons and Chandlers did not buy seats in the Senate with money. Return, days of Mason and Calhoun, of Jackson, bravest of the brave, and White, whose reputation was white and stainless as the Alpine snow; of Clay and Webster and Crittenden, when the great and the good, of the administration and the opposition, had but a single object and purpose, the permanent welfare of the country, and differed only as to the means, and the asperities of party conflicts were due to the zeal and enthusiasm with which each labored to that end. Return, days of the people dawn of freedom, when no Generals of the Empire ruled over prostrate Provinces, and the Dry Tortugas had not become a Republican Bastile; when an indignant people strangled the Allen and Sedition laws, and licentious power dared not choke the life out of the great writ of Habeas Corpus, or deny the American citizen the right of trial by jury, or propose to try by a jury of negroes one who had been the Chief Magistrate of a nation that set three hundred thousand men in the field and was conquered when exhausted, by an army of more than a million.

Young men, it is for you to bring back to the country these golden days. The South is our land; the North is a foreign and a hostile realm. Stand at the altar of your country. Swear eternal hatred of its oppressors. Swear that the day shall come when the Susquehannah and Ohio shall be like rivers of fire, as they are now rivers of blood, between your native land and that of the Northern Huns, which no man shall attempt to cross, and live. For us, the sunset of life has come, and the days that remain to us are few and full of trouble. To you the golden glories of life's sunrise lights up the splendors of the dawn. Yours are the bright hopes of early manhood; ours the doubts and fears that cloud the closing days of life. To your hands we commit the destinies of your States. We make you the guardians of their honor. Among you there will be no purchasable renegades. Receive the sacred trust; and remember that the duties of life are more than life, and that it is not all of life to live.

Mothers, wives, sisters, daughters, of the men of Mississippi, I cannot speak to you. No angel has touched my lips with the burning coals from the altar of the sacrifices. I leave to others the fine phrases and the empty compliments that you would not value. What you have done in the past is sufficient guarantee of your heroism and devotion in the future. You have more than prevailed, you have excelled, the women of Zaragoza and Gerona, and the Hebrew matrons and wardens who helped defend the Holy City of Jerusalem against the legions of Vespasian. You will also do your duty in the days, dark or bright, that are to come. You will teach those who love you, fidelity to principle amid all temptations, to prefer honor to prosperity and the dangerous truth to the safe and profitable falsehood; constancy and courage and the manly and hopeful endurance that befits a man.

You are the conquerors who take all men captive, and whose silken fetters, stronger than tempered steel, we are glad and proud to wear. Into our souls your eyes shine like stars, and we bow down and worship, and in love find new strength to undertake great enterprises or endure great calamities. O flowers brought to us by the Angels from the gardens of Paradise, you bloom here to bless, to encourage and to console. We are all your willing slaves. Age gives no exemption from that service; for in the sad and sober autumn of our days we still covet the living smile and the loving look that can be ours no more.

The sober autumn of our days! For you, dear girls, the violets and roses; for us the leaves reddened by the frost and soon to fall. For you the bright and glad anticipations of the future, the dreams that make youth's happiness; for us the memories of the Past, of joys and sorrows intermingled, of the hopes and loves and bitter disappointment and cruel losses, of the days that are no more.

Our country also, our own dear Southland that you love so well, has its memories of the Past, of a glad, bright Dawn and a morning full of promise, that darkened into a day full of gloom and terror and disaster. Out of that darkness the faces of our dead look sadly and pityingly and lovingly upon us. They have not died in vain. The land they died for shall yet reap the fruit of the great sacrifice. Our country also has its hopes that are not delusive, for the Future. To it the sober autumn days have not come, nor even those of life's summer. For it the rosy days of spring have not departed, though the immortelles planted by angels bloom on many graves.

Every dark night hath its morning,
Lost though oft, delayed Redawning:
Wait! Be patient! Pray for Dixie.

At the close of the General's address, which occupied about one hour in the delivery, dinner was announced. The arrangements for feeding this immense crowd, which, by this time, I s'clock p. m., had swollen to about twelve hundred persons, were admirable. The tables were arranged in a hollow square, one hundred and fifty feet each way, and capable of accommodating five to six hundred persons at a time. In the center of the square were large tables erected for the carvers; here the barbecue was served to the gentlemen and ladies appointed to wait on the tables, and they in turn carried it and distributed it around the different tables. To give some idea of the immense amount of food prepared, we need but say ninety head of animals (oxen, sheep, shoats, etc.) were barbecued. This does not include chickens and turkeys. Everything was in the greatest abundance, and managed with so much skill that all went away satisfied—a rare thing at barbecues and picnics, as frequenters of those institutions can testify.

After dinner was over, and a proper time had elapsed for the assemblage to "cool off" from the heat engendered this hot weather by the exertions concomitant on eating, the ladies again took their seats, and the assembly was called to order. Capt. Aldridge was presented and made a handsome speech, mostly on literary topics, and addressed principally to the young men of the societies present. At the close of Captain Aldridge's remarks, which we regret we cannot give on account of the lack of space, after a few stirring strains from the band, the chairman put the following resolution to vote, and it was unanimously carried:

Resolved, That the Conservative papers of Memphis be furnished a copy of the able and eloquent address read by Gen. Pike here to-day, and that they be requested to publish the same.

We regret exceedingly that the extreme length of the composition will preclude the possibility of complying with this request of our friends.

The passage of this resolution closed the order of the day, and as soon as the sun began to sink a little in the west, the crowd began to break up. A few of the young gentlemen began to canvass the prospects of continuing the frolic by having a dance in the evening—a proposition which we need not say was not long in taking with the young ladies. It was finally arranged, we believe, to adjourn to the dwelling of Mr. McCargo, and have the dance there.

By seven o'clock most of the vast crowd had left the scene, and, as we drove away, the whippoorwill was whistling his melancholy note from the very arbor which a few hours before sheltered the eloquent speakers and fair ladies.

In conclusion, we tender our thanks to the gentlemen and ladies for the many acts of kindness shown us. Our thanks, and the thanks of the whole assemblage are especially due to Dr. Stout, for a couple of barrels of ice, which he sent to replace that carried on by the railroad, by mistake; and also Mr. Ammonand lady.

DEMOCRATS OF GREENWOOD, RALLY! RALLY!!—You are earnestly requested to meet at College Grove Garden—the southern terminus of the Hernando street railroad—on Friday the 24th inst., at 8 p.m., for the purpose of organization. It is hoped that all within the neighborhood disposed toward a free government, and a restoration of our liberties, will be punctually present. Judge T. W. Brown, and other distinguished gentlemen, will address you.

Creditors and Non-Resident Notice.

In Chancery Court of Memphis, Tennessee.
No. 245, N. R. D.—W. N. Wilkerson, et al., vs. The Franklin Insurance and Banking Company, et al,

In this cause it appearing that defendants Joseph F. Imbs, John F. Meyer and Louis Fusz (firm of Imbs, Meyer & Fusz), are non-residents of the State of Tennessee: It is therefore ordered by the Court, that they make their appearance herein, on or before the first Monday in May, 1868, and plead, answer or demur to complainant's bill, or the same will be taken for confessed as to them, and cause set for hearing ex parte. It is further ordered that all persons claiming to be creditors, or having any character of demands, against the said Franklin Insurance and Banking Company of Memphis, shall immediately come into this Court and have themselves made parties to this suit, and file their claims with the Clerk and Master, with proper evidence of the same, that they may severally receive their ratable shares of the assets of said Company, to be distributed in this cause; and that a copy of this order be published in the Memphis Daily Appeal for three (3) months from this date.

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE Instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Power, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower Agraffe retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the treble and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpractised ear and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep0 dé wly

CREDITORS' NOTICE.

In the Chancery Court of Memphis, Tenn.
No. 260, N. R. D.—Jesse W. Page et al. vs. The Commercial Bank of Tennessee et al.

IN this cause it appears that the names and residences of the creditors of the Commercial Bank of Tennessee are unknown, and that a decree has been entered directing them to be made parties to this suit:

It is therefore ordered, That all creditors of said Bank make their appearance herein, at the Courthouse in the city of Memphis, Tennessee, on or before the first Monday in October, 1868, file and establish their claims and demands with the Clerk and Master, and have themselves made parties hereto, or the same will be forever barred and cause proceeded with ex parte; and that a copy of this order be published once a week for six successive weeks, in the Memphis Post.

IMPORTANT to PLANTERS.

FRIAR'S POINT, MISS., June 10, 1868.

Messrs. MANSFIELD & HIGBEE,
Druggists, Memphis, Tennessee:

GENTLEMEN: You ask me for my statement relative to your cure for EXSPRAIN or CHARBONE IN HORSES and MULES, which you style

"MAGIC ARNICA LINIMENT."

I have used your Liniment in about two dozen cases with perfect success. I had lost all hope of a remedy, but believe your discovery "THE REMEDY." I have not failed in a single case in which I have applied your Liniment. I believe it a valuable discovery. I think every planter should provide himself with the Magic Arnica Liniment. No planter should be without your remedy where this terrible disease prevails. I have supplied each of my plantations. My supervisors report favorable upon every trial.

Very respectfully, yours, etc.,

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, July 22, 1868.

We, as well as the many friends of the Merchants' National Bank of this city will be glad to learn that it will re-open in a very short time—rumor says to-morrow morning. A meeting of the Directors takes place to-day at 10 a.m. at which rules for the guidance of the bank will be adopted, and other preliminary matters arranged. We presume that all the old officers will retain their positions, which is a gratifying evidence of confidence upon the part of the Directors and Stockholders in the integrity of these gentlemen. We learn that Mr. McKee, who had charge of the bank in the interest of the Government has turned it over to the Directors and departed for Washington. The bank will resume business with vaults full of currency, and upon a more solid basis, we have no doubt, than it has enjoyed since the unfortunate affair which is generally understood to be the main cause of its temporary suspension.

We learn from planters that the hot weather has driven nearly all the negroes out of the fields. It is to be hoped that this term of heat may last but a few days longer, and that the short delay occasioned thereby will not prove of serious detriment to the crops. The greatest danger to be apprehended this season will be of a political character. Mass meetings of those who till the soil should not be frequent at a period when we are in want of bread, and every day lost in this way curtails our crops to that extent. The managers of the political campaign just inaugurated will, we hope, think of this thing and act accordingly, but we presume it will be vain to urge such prudential motives upon the Radicals, as only in continued excitement and turmoil do they expect to find success.

Gold opened in New York to-day at 143¼, and closed at 143¾. Dealers buy at 141@142. Selling at 142¾@143.

By a letter to a house in this city from a well known broker in New York, we learn that Southern securities have a decided downward tendency in that market. We have confident dealers here, however, who are anxious to buy favorite stocks and bonds at our quotations, which owing to the absence of offerings must be looked upon as entirely nominal. We quote as follows: Memphis and Charleston railroad stock, 53c. Memphis Gas Company stock, $1 50; Mississippi Central Railroad, 1st mortgage bonds, 68c; 2d do. 40c. Mississippi and Tennessee, 1st mortgage bonds, 50c. Memphis and Louisville 1st mortgage bonds, 30@31c; 2d do. 20c. Memphis and Little Rock bonds, 40c.

The following are the New York quotations for Government securities to-day: Coupons '81, 15½; do '62, 14¼; do '64, 11¾; do '65, 12½; new issue, 9¼; do '67, 9¼; do 10-40s, 8¾; 7-30s, 2d and 3d, 9; Old Tennessee, 67¼; new do 66¼. Government bonds steady.

City Bonds are now being issued by Mayor Leftwich to those who have deposited Scrip for conversion, but we could hear of none being put upon the market. There is some inquiry for them, however, at 74@66c.

City Scrip is very scarce and in demand by those who wish to convert it into bonds. We quote at 72@75 buying. Brokers are not selling.

County Warrants are active. Buyers were on the street offering 55c, but we could not learn of any sales. We quote at 56@57c selling.

Police Scrip dull at 70c buying. Selling at 75c.

Cotton continues to droop. It opened in Liverpool heavy to-day—Uplands, 10¾@10¾d; Orleans, 11@11¼d and was declining at noon, when Uplands were quoted at 10¾@10¾d; Orleans, 10¾@11d. It was heavy at the close—Uplands, 10¾d; Orleans, 10¾d. Sales, 8000 bales.

The New York market at the opening was dull and nominal. Low Middlings, 29½c; Middlings, 31@31½c; Orleans, 31¾c; Good Middlings, 32c, and at the close was dull and nominal.

Our market was quiet. Holders were more disposed to sell, but no buyers could be found. It is conceded that the stock estimate of the Chamber of Commerce is largely in excess of the actual stock. The acting Secretary will however, count all cotton on hand within a day or two. Meantime we give the following as taken from the books of the Chamber of Commerce:
